Well, perhaps some other stuff is going on today. I hope you will return as interim provost—is that in the cards (off the record)? The teaching specialist we hired about 8 years ago was not funded by the Koch Foundation. This position was funded for 10 years by BB&T. There was not consultation that I recall. In any event, such a consultation would necessarily be in the same spirit as regular professorship positions, the donor could not dictate the hiring of someone that did not pass muster with the department and dean.

Duh. Don't know where my brain was this am! The first section is 4 (b), dealing with specialist hires.
